SHRIMP-RED SNAPPER HEARINGS

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council is proposing some major regulation changes to rebuild the overfished red snapper fishery in the Gulf of Mexico. The proposed regulations are as follows:

* Reducing the commercial red snapper quota from 3.1 to 1.0 million pounds.
* Reducing the sport bag limit on red snapper from 7 to 2 fish per person.
* Closing the shrimp trawling season in the Gulf during the entire months of May, June and July.
* More shrimp trawling closures or mandatory fish excluders in 1993.

The Council's information is that an estimated 12 million small red snappers are killed in trawls each year and that the population of red snappers cannot increase unless trawl bycatch is reduced. Public comment on these proposed rules will be taken at the meetings. All meetings are from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. at the following places in our area:

LONGLINE CONTROL NOTICE

The Western Pacific Regional Fishery Management Council has announced that longline vessels which cannot show either that they landed fish in Hawaii or have made an investment in longlining in Hawaii before June 21, 1990, may be cut-off from being able to fish there soon.

The longline fishery for swordfish has exploded from only 500,000 pounds in all of 1989 to 2,500,000 pounds in the first five months of this year and overfishing is feared.
The longline fleet has doubled in two years, with many of the boats coming from the Gulf of Mexico yellowfin tuna fishery. Moving a vessel from the Gulf to Hawaii at this time will involve the risk of not being able to fish.

WETLANDS PUBLIC HEARINGS

The U.S. Department of the Interior will be holding a public hearing from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on August 27, 1990 at the Airport Sheraton Hotel in New Orleans on the national goal of "no net loss" of wetlands. Wetlands are very important to Louisiana, producing most of its seafood, sport-fishing, and duck and goose hunting.

STATE HANG FUND REPORT

In the fiscal year 1990, which ended June 30, 1990, the Louisiana Fishermen's Gear Compensation Fund paid 412 claims for $816,274. The average claim paid was $1870. Louisiana commercial fishermen are allowed two claims per year. Of the 412 claims, 61 people filed two claims and 290 filed one claim. The telephone number to report a claim is (504) 342-0122 in Baton Rouge.
